

Why music, and why now?

- A 1997 study of elementary students in an arts-based program concluded that students' math test scores rose as their time in arts education classes increased.
  - "Arts Exposure and Class Performance," Phi Delta Kappan, October, 1998.
- College admissions officers continue to cite participation in music as an important factor in making admissions decisions. They claim that music participation demonstrates time management, creativity, expression, and open-mindedness.
  - Carl Hartman, "Arts May Improve Students' Grades," The Associated Press, October, 1999.
- Music students out-perform non-music on achievement tests in reading and math. Skills such as reading, anticipating, memory, listening, forecasting, recall, and concentration are developed in musical performance, and these skills are valuable to students in math, reading, and science.
  - B. Friedman, "An Evaluation of the Achievement in Reading and Arithmetic of Pupils in Elementary School Instrumental Music Classe", Dissertation Abstracts International.
